

The Earthstock Foundation is honored to announce its Alliance for Regenerative Communities initiative.

This is an invitation to your community,

The regenerative roundtable is an inclusive and non hierarchical opportunity to enhance connectivity and build synergy in a specific bioregion. To organize in regards to identifying community resources and strategize action items.

This inclusive process assists in connecting resources that can be any individual or organization involved in resilience, sustainability or regenerative activities.

The regenerative round table focuses specifically on the connectivity of environmental, health, arts & culture, peace & justice, sustainable living, community building, green energy, alternative economics and independent media.

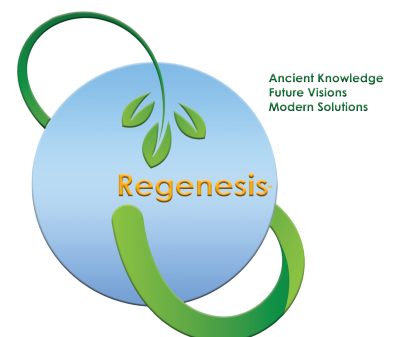

The intention is to:

1. Generate collaborations and action items to cultivate and accelerate implementing practical solutions to regional issues.
2. To nurture an environment of collaboration not competition and enhance the overall quality of life for all.
3. Elevate regional resilience and self sustainability.
3. To activate the Source Directory Regenerative Network.
4. Produce and promote ongoing events / projects and future regional events.
5. Establishing an Institute of Regenerative Culture in the Crestone Colorado area.
6. Establishing an Institute of Regenerative Culture in Costa Rica (1,000 existing acres) and Nevada City, Ca (20 existing acres)

I will be conducting a tour of the Southwest in the winter and spring of 2022. Locations will include Boulder/Denver & Crestone Colorado, Taos/Santa Fe New Mexico, Flagstaff and Sedona Arizona and the Hopi & Navajo Reservations. This event can also be accompanied by a sacred music concert to help generate funds for the tour.

In service,

Michael DiMartino
Earthstock Foundation (Official non profit)
alliance4regencommunities@gmail.com
www.EarthstockFoundation.org 530-362-8264

The Academy for Regenerative Culture

The ARC (Alliance for Regenerative Communities) is a non profit initiative of Earthstock Foundation. The alliance is dedicated to spiritual principles, conscious environmental stewardship and resilient self-sustainability. We create synergy by facilitating bioregional “Regenerative Roundtables”.

The Alliance for Regenerative Communities is made up individuals and organization that function as administrators, faculty, residents, consultants, community members, collaborators and public participants.

The Academy of Regenerative Culture is project of Earthstock Enterprises. It is comprised of a land based school/facility providing a full spectrum of events, educational programs and research. It will consists of both in person programs and online curriculums. We are currently developing 20 acres in Nevada County, Ca and 1000 acres in Costa Rica to actualize our mission statement. WE are also working to acquire a land acquisition in Crestone, Co.

Departments of Regenerative Culture

1. Environment
2. Health & Wellness
3. Arts, Culture and Spirituality
4. Independent Media
5. Peace & Justice
6. Sustainable Living (Agriculture & Housing)
7. Green Technology
8. Peace & Social Justice

The Academy is :

1. World Headquarters EarthStock Fdtn
2. Residential Community
3. Academy of Regenerative Culture
4. Self Sustainable Food Farm
5. Spiritual Retreat Center
6. Holistic Health Center
7. Community Event Space
8. Bioregional & Global Media Hub
9. EarthStock Enterprises Project Incubator
10. Ceremonial Circle and Fire Pit

